NOTE WORTHY—3/17/24

- Today, we welcome our missionary guests, Jeff and Leah Cox. Jeff will speak in the 9:30 session and give an update in the 10:30 service.
- Today, after the morning service, we will have a meeting in the conference room with the people going on the Nova Scotia missions trip. We need to cover a few logistics, but the meeting should only last 15-20 minutes.
- Next Sunday, in the morning service, we will collect our Faith Promise. Faith Promise is the program we use to support our missions' program. People are asked to give regularly (weekly or monthly) so that we can plan on the ministries we will be able to partner with. Pray about how the Lord would have you to be involved.
- Easter Schedule - This year, we are deviating from our usual schedule. Rather than an actual "sunrise" service, we are having a "better than sunrise" service and brunch. Below is the schedule for March 31.
  - * 8:00 AM Better than sunrise service
  - * 8:45 AM Bruch (plan to bring food)
  - * 10:00 AM Morning Worship Service
  - * 11:45 AM Egg hunt for the kids
  - * 6:00 PM No service
- We have a sign-up sheet at the information desk for food we need at the Easter Brunch. You are free to add additional items, but these are the core things we would like to have.
- YARD SALE - There will be a yard sale in the Front Parking Lot on April 13 from 8:00 -1:00 PM. Cost is $15 per spot with tables available by request ($5 per table). The spot and table rent will be used to help the teens going to summer camp and on the Mission trip. Call 540-955-3410 to reserve your spot.
- Thanks for supporting our young people's fundraising efforts to attend summer camp. We had a good group join us for the Murder Mystery on Saturday night.
- Academy New and Notes
  - * March 21-22, ODACS State Fine Arts Competition
  - * April 9-11, AACS National Fine Arts Competition

Facts
& FIGURES

Our missions program does not follow a man-made model. Wednesday night, in our mid-week service, we reviewed the model in Acts 13:1-4. The church in Antioch of Syria was active and had a multi-national congregation. Together, they were “ministering to the Lord.” In the midst of their activity, the Holy Spirit asked them to “set apart” for a specific work, Saul (Paul) and Barnabas. These were men already active and an integral part of the church. God did not call everybody, but he called two leaders. They could easily have said, “No, we are busy already.” Sometimes, God looks for those already busy to surrender to new opportunities. While looking at this passage, we can extract several principles applicable to local churches. Among them are these four lessons that we reviewed in our mid-week service.

1. Healthy churches (Christians) extend their vision beyond their own Surroundings.
  2. The Holy Spirit calls missionaries out of local churches.
  3. The Holy Spirit calls specific people.
  4. The church is working cooperatively with the Holy Spirit.
- Every believer is a missionary in his circle of influence. Paul and Barnabas worked with a team of people in their local church but God specifically chose them for another work. You can and should be involved now, but listen for God’s direction when He calls you to serve in another field.
